REPUBLICAN RECORD IS MADE IN ECONOMY

PRESIDENT HARDING IN SPECIAL MESSAGE TO CONGRESS TODAY

Announces That the Federal Budget for the Next Fiscal Year
Will Be Lowest Expenditure of Government
Since the Days Before the War

Praised the Rigid Economy Which the Budget Bureau Has Enforced During the Last Year; "Budget System Greatest Reform in Financial History"

By LAURENCE M. BENEDICT
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Dec. 4.—President Harding today sent a special message to congress announcing that the federal budget for the next fiscal year, beginning July 1, 1923, will be approximately three billion dollars—the lowest yearly expenditure of the government since the days before the war.

Praising the rigid economy which the budget bureau has enforced during the last year, the president pointed out that the government is now back to pre-war days in general expenditures. Of the three billions asked, two can be attributed to the war. He made it plain that his administration will continue to fight for greater economy. The president indicated that because nearly two-thirds of the government's yearly bill represents the fixed charges resulting from the war, it will be difficult to reduce taxes in the near future.

The budget system, the president declared, was "the greatest reform in our financial history."

Government expenditures during the next fiscal year will be $3,180,843,235, a reduction of nearly $600,000,000 as compared with the expenditures of the current year. Specifically the executive asked for appropriations of $3,078,940,331.64, the difference between appropriations and expenditures being attributed to the fact that congress makes some appropriations which carry over from year to year.

A surplus of $180,969,125 in the government's financial operations for the next fiscal year, was estimated, as compared with a probable deficit this year of $273,938,712.

The total receipts of the government during the next fiscal year were estimated at $3,361,612,359 as compared with $3,429,862,959. Three estimates were based on no reduction of taxes, and include a back tax collection of approximately $300,000,000.

Outstanding in the budget is the appropriation for national defense which totals $546,433,870. The army asks for $256,552,877 which would provide for a regular army of 125,000 men and 12,000 officers. The navy wants $289,433,870 which would support 86,000 men. The appropriations would maintain the land and sea forces at their present strength and are the lowest since the war.

Referring to the large amounts which the federal government is contributing to the states each year for road building and other projects the president said he was concerned because he felt this policy was causing large increases in state, county and municipal indebtedness. He made no direct recommendation on this subject, however. He also indicated that he disapproved large expenditures for research, improvement and development, which have no business with "the business of government."

Nomination Not Acted Upon

Washington, Dec. 4.—The nomination of Pierce Butler, democrat, attorney of St. Paul, to be associate justice of the United States supreme court, was not acted upon in the senate today. Certain progressive elements in the senate had announced their opposition to Butler. The senate adjourned the special session without taking formal action on the nomination.

STATE FIRE MARSHAL MAY PROBE FIRE OF WINONA STATE TEACHERS' COLLEGE

(By United Press)
Winona, Minn., Dec. 4.—Fire Chief W. E. Norton today asked the state fire marshal's office to investigate the cause of the fire which destroyed the main buildings of the Winona state teachers' college here Sunday. The loss to the old building and damage to the library and heating plant is estimated to total $500,000. No insurance is carried on the buildings by the state.

Captain Michalowski, of the Winona fire department, suffered severe cuts and bruises when a hose coupling broke and he was swept against fire debris. Albert Schriver, a ladder man, was blown from a ladder by an explosion of gas, and injured.

No one has been able to determine the cause of the fire. Classes will resume today in churches and fraternal buildings about town.

ELSIE SALISBURY ON TRIAL TODAY IN MONTEVIDEO

CHARGED WITH MURDERING OS-CAR ERICKSON IN RAILROAD
OFFICE THERE

MOTION OF DEFENDANT'S AT-TORNEY FOR DELAY IN CASE
DENIED BY JUDGE

(By United Press)
Montevideo, Minn., Dec. 4.—The trial of Elsie Salisbury on a charge of murdering Oscar Erickson in a railroad office here last April, was ordered to proceed today.

Judge G. E. Qvale of Willmar denied motion of Defense Attorney Ernest Cary, Minneapolis, for delay until Wednesday. Tom Davis, another Minneapolis attorney, associated with the defense is trying a case at Glenwood, and was unable to be here today. The court held this insufficient reason for further delay of the trial.

Miss Salisbury, for reasons which she never divulged, shot Erickson in the back as he turned away from her desk in the Milwaukee railroad headquarters. She was holding the smoking pistol when other employees rushed in and confessed firing, according to authorities.

She was released on $20,000 bail last July when the supreme court decided that since abolishment of capital punishment in Minnesota, the charge of first degree murder is bailable. She went to Sioux Falls, but for the last two months has been living in Minneapolis.

Her mother, Mrs. Laura Salisbury of Tulare, California, was in court with the girl.

(By United Press)
St. Paul Dec. 4.—Damage suits will be instituted against North Dakota railroads for failure to furnish freight cars.

This was the statement today of Frank Milholland, North Dakota railroad commissioner, following the conference at the capitol Saturday.

The four principal roads in the state—the Great Northern, Northern Pacific, Soo Line and the St. Paul roads—will be named as defendants, he said.

Under the North Dakota law, according to Milholland, railroads are requested to furnish a number of cars, proportionate to the amount of grain on hand in elevators. Thousands of bushels of grain, he said, are rotting on the ground because no cars have been received. Minnesota will not join North Dakota in the contemplated suits, it was explained, as more cars have been received in this state.

EXPECTS TO MEET PRES. HARDING AND WOODROW WILSON

TO DRIVE HOME AT WASHINGTON
THE PURPOSE OF HIS VISIT IN AMERICA

ENFORCING ON AMERICA REAL-IZATION OF NEED OF DE-FENDING RHINE LINE

(By United Press)

Baltimore, Md., Dec. 4.—Georges Clemenceau, Tiger of France, carries his case direct to Washington today when he begins his final drive to win American support for his European peace plan.

After his great speech in Maryland during which he will speak at the Maryland Historical Society, Clemenceau will go to the capitol where his work as one of the "Big Four" at the Versailles peace table was undone.

Meeting of the Tiger and President Harding when the Tiger will probably present in person his case for future American participation in European affairs, will come Tuesday. Then will follow even a more dramatic meeting with former President Woodrow Wilson.

Clemenceau, having practically finished his speech making throughout the country, expects to drive home at Washington what he has disclosed to be the purpose of his visit—enforcing upon America the realization of the need of defending the Rhine line.

This border is the peace line in Europe in the Tiger's opinion, and guarantees that Germany will keep on her side of the line is the sine qua non of European peace.

This, then he says, more than participation in the League of Nations is what he seeks of the United States.

As for the League, Clemenceau in a statement to the United Press declared he would welcome American participation. Not believing in the League as the ultimate instrument of peace, he, nevertheless, believes it has done some good, and invites America to join.

If she does not care to, well and good he said; let her come to Europe in any way she sees fit.

"But she must come," the Tiger continued.

Clemenceau's journey across the midwest enroute from St. Louis to Baltimore yesterday was one of triumph.

Great crowds greeted him all along the route. At Indianapolis the crowd included delegations of negroes, who presented him with a silver loving cup.

At Richmond, Indiana and Columbus, Ohio, receptions brought him a spontaneous greeting.

Address in Baltimore

Baltimore, Md., Dec. 4.—Appeal that America and France put feeling ahead of reasoning and go on together "knowing each other's faults like a married couple" but loving each other, was made by war premier Georges Clemenceau today in a brief address before the Maryland Historical society.

The Tiger, en route to Washington, stopped off here a few hours in Baltimore to receive the city's homage, and spoke briefly but eloquently of the memories of Lafayette and of the real "entente" of the heart existing between his country and the United States.

Madame Schumann-Heink was taken seriously ill on Tuesday immediately after her return from her concert tour, Dr. Booman said. She first contracted a cold while singing in Pennsylvania November 20th. Despite this she appeared in a recital in the Waldorf-Astoria on November 25th. Her condition then became steadily worse.

TO PROBE DEATH OF PRETTY MILL CITY GIRL IN PARIS

MYSTERIOUS EVENTS INVESTI-GATED BY AMERICAN

FIRST STATED MISS ROSE SHAN-NESSEY HAD COMMIT-TED SUICIDE

(By United Press)

Paris, Dec. 4.—The American consul today entered the investigation of the mysterious events that followed the death of Miss Rose Shannessy, pretty Minneapolis girl here.

The consulate asked the police to do their utmost to learn what was taken from the beautiful girl's apartment when it was ransacked a few days after it was announced she had committed suicide by shooting herself.

While dying in a hospital, Miss Shannessy was declared to have told attendants that she shot herself when her lover—the nephew of a prominent publisher—told her he intended to marry another woman.

Following the suicide verdict, the police, who were very secretive about the "man in the case" allowed their probe to lapse until yesterday when the girl's apartment was found in disorder. The police said they were uncertain whether it was through burglars, or through someone seeking letters or other documents.

He accordingly sued Richard Hilliard for $6,000. Hilliard declared 20,000,000 Americans would be interested in the jury's verdict.

Physicians are constantly at the bedside of the famous singer who has thrilled hundreds of American audiences, and who, during the war, was lovingly called "mother" by hundreds of thousands of American dough-boys. Madame Schumann-Heink was taken seriously ill on Tuesday immediately after her return from her concert tour, Dr. Booman said.

She first contracted a cold while singing in Pennsylvania November 20th. Despite this she appeared in a recital in the Waldorf-Astoria on November 25th. Her condition then became steadily worse.

LABOR TO OPEN BANK IN NEW YORK CITY

(By United Press)

New York, Dec. 2.—The chairman of the banking committee of the New York Federation of Labor has announced the establishment of a co-operative bank in New York to be controlled by labor.

The bank will be known as the Federation Trust Company, with resources of $2,000,000, to be divided as $1,000,000 capital and $1,000,000 surplus.

Shares will be sold for $200, of which $100 will be applied to capital and $100 to surplus.

The organizers plan to place the stock in the hands of the largest number of people, so that it may be obtained on an easy payment plan.

Dividends to stockholders will be limited to 10 per cent, and the remainder of the profits will go to the depositors. The motto of the bank will be "service," and all the institution's power will be directed toward helping organized workers.

292 PERMANENT INJUNCTIONS WERE GRANTED CONVICTED BOOTLEGGERS

St. Paul, Dec. 4.—Two hundred and ninety-two permanent injunctions were granted convicted bootleggers by Federal Judge Wilbur F. Booth today restraining the internal revenue department from seizing their property in lieu of liquor taxes. Nearly one hundred attorneys representing the bootleggers were in court.

If the decision of Judge Booth is upheld, the internal revenue department will lose millions of dollars in taxes, assessed on illegal liquor, according to representatives of the department.

TO PROBE DEATH OF PRETTY MILL CITY GIRL IN PARIS

MYSTERIOUS EVENTS INVESTIGATED BY AMERICAN CONSULATE

FIRST STATED MISS ROSE SHANNESSEY HAD COMMITTED SUICIDE

(By United Press)
Paris, Dec. 4.—The American consul today entered the investigation of the mysterious events that followed the death of Miss Rose Shannessy, pretty Minneapolis girl here.

The consulate asked the police to do their utmost to learn what was taken from the beautiful girl's apartment when it was ransacked a few days after it was announced she had committed suicide by shooting herself.

While dying in a hospital, Miss Shannessy was declared to have told attendants that she shot herself when her lover—the nephew of a prominent publisher—told her he intended to marry another woman.

Following the suicide verdict, the police, who were very secretive about the "man in the case" allowed their probe to lapse until yesterday when the girl's apartment was found in disorder. The police said they were uncertain whether it was through burglars, or through someone seeking letters or other documents.

COURT AWARDS POKER LOSER $1,000 DAMAGES

Chicago, Dec. 3.—A jury composed of six poker players and six men who professed innocence of the great American pastime, returned a verdict awarding $1,000 to Michael Danek, who, in poker terminology, must be known as a poor loser. Having dropped $2,000 in the game of "stud," Danek had decided to take advantage of the statute which permits anyone filing a damage suit to ask for three times the amount of his losses. He accordingly sued Richard Hilliard for $6,000. Hilliard declared 20,000,000 Americans would be interested in the jury's verdict.

BROADWAY SPURNS HALVES AT 25 CENTS

New York, Dec. 3.—Jack Cohen of Manhattan was fined $2 in West Side court today for trying to sell 50 cent pieces for 25 cents to a throng at Broadway and Forty-ninth street last night. Cohen testified he was only endeavoring to demonstrate to a doubtful Missourian that New Yorkers are not as "hard boiled" as some people say.

He explained that following an argument with William Wolf, a salesman of St. Louis, he had entered into a contract to sell $50 worth of silver half dollars at 25 cents each in 15 minutes.

He didn't make a sale.

Reducing the Hazard

"The enlightened employer interests himself in the conservation of the health of his employees and in their safety, so far as he can provide them," says the Chicago Tribune.

For many years the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has followed this plan as a part of its established policy.

This Company maintains an exceptionally high standard of safety insurance. It not only provides safety devices but by encouraging the organization of safety committees in all of its refineries, it has been successful in reducing accidents in its refineries to a point which actually is below that of many businesses naturally less hazardous.

As an example of its efforts in this direction is cited the fact that all Standard Oil Company (Indiana) refineries are provided with elaborate fire-fighting devices, of which live steam and chemicals are notable refinements.

The Directors of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) recognize that an employee who believes himself to be well-treated and secure is a better worker and is more interested in giving full service both to the Company and to the public than is the employee who lacks this feeling of security.

The management of this Company believes that every constructive measure for the benefit of its employees is a definite factor in lowering the cost of doing business, in securing greater efficiency, and ultimately lowering prices of its products to the consumer.

Hazard reduction is but one item, though an important one, in the Company's complete program of attention to the well-being of its employees. Other items include liberal compensation, good working conditions, steady work, and insurance in so far as is possible against unemployment. In addition this Company has devised an annuity system to provide for the protection of those who have grown old in its service.

The efforts of the management to provide ways and means of eliminating the dangers of a highly hazardous occupation is reflected in the enthusiasm of the workers and the whole-hearted endorsement of 26,500 stockholders, not one of whom owns as much as 10 percent of the total.

EDUCATIONAL WEEK PROGRAM NOW ON

If Citizens Attend Various Meetings Arranged, Week Will Stimulate Interests in Schools

PARENT-TEACHERS COOPERATE

On Friday Evening Dr. J. C. Brown of St. Cloud State Teachers College Will Speak

The program for Educational Week is thoroughly organized, and if the citizens of Brainerd evince interest in Brainerd's educational needs by attending the various meetings to be held during this week, educational week will stimulate larger interest in our schools and their program.

On Monday evening, December 4th, the Lowell school Parent-Teachers association will meet at 7:30. The committee in charge of the meeting, Mrs. Gust Olson, Mrs. Arthur Evans, Miss Luella Austin and Miss Mable Early have arranged the following program:

Duet—Misses Bloomstrom.
Solo—Miss Irma Haake.
Talk—Rev. Frederick Errington.
Piano solo—Miss Tschman.

The committee from the Rotary club, with S. R. Adair, chairman, will have charge of the remainder of the evening which will be in the nature of an open forum.

On Tuesday evening at 7:30 the Washington-Lincoln Parent-Teachers association will meet in the high school building. The committee on program, Mrs. Carl Bentley, Miss Pineo and Mrs. S. Newman have arranged the following program:

Vocal solos—E. J. Abbey of Minneapolis.

Vocal duet—Miss Oberg and Mrs. Ray Hall.

Violin solo—John Goedderz, accompanied by Miss Gertrude Goedderz.

American Legion quartet.

Talk—Rev. Fred Errington.

A public health film will be shown.

Open Forum—Conducted by members of the American Legion and the Rotary club. All Legion members are asked to be present at this meeting. The legion is behind the educational week's activities and the members of the local post are expected to show their interest.

Thursday evening—American Legion banquet when special attention will be given to the week's program.

Friday evening at 7:30 Dr. J. C. Brown of the St. Cloud State Teachers College, also president of the Minnesota Educational Association, will speak in the New Park theatre. Dr. Brown knows as much or more than any man in the state of Minnesota about Minnesota's educational program. There will be no charge for admission to the theatre and the public will miss something worth while if they fail to come to the lecture.

The high school glee club will sing and the high school orchestra will entertain the audience.

The Riverside school is arranging for a meeting Friday p. m. and evening and because people from over there are not likely to attend the meeting in the New Park theatre, the Parent-Teachers association of the Riverside school will be held Friday evening.

Business men are asked to remember that the organizations behind Educational week are asking them to run slogans. These should be of this nature: "Visit the High School." "Have you been to the high school yet?" "Don't fail to visit the high school this week." "Are Brainerd students in high school getting a square deal?"

The rural committee concluded that it would be impossible to thoroughly cover the rural districts by sending out speakers from Brainerd and Mrs. Irma Camp Hartley has done a good piece of work by approaching the teachers. The following letter shows just how this approach has been made.

To the Teachers:

A nation-wide Education Week has been set for the week of December 3 to 9. The rural schools of this county will be asked to follow the general outline to the very best of their ability. The classes in citizenship may help by debates, discussions or papers appropriate for each day. The time of the citizenship recitation may be used or a special half hour set aside at the end of the day. I would also like each teacher to make this week a Parents Visiting Week and to report in the monthly report the number of parents who visited your school. This will take effort but really means something as it will be reported to headquarters. If you have a Parent-Teachers organization have it meet during this week if possible.

I am pleased to find that the teachers generally are meeting and advising with school boards and parents to the mutual advantage of both. Now is the busy time for our heating plants. See they have a square deal; the evaporating pan must always contain plenty of water, and ashes not allowed to accumulate near the grates. Introduce all the physical exercises you can. Open the windows at least once a day and have muscle action—you will find brain work will be improved. The hot lunch at noon means more thought than actual effort. Domestic science in practice is one of the results. Report to the county nurse all children needing physical help.

Let us do our share to keep the children's holiday season unclouded by the unrest and discontent that is darkening so much of this beautiful world. They must not breathe the poison—a poison that may affect their lives. Santa Claus as the spirit of love and giving still must reign. Some money is needed, that must be your plan, but a little may be made to go a long way. Plan your Christmas program early. Let there not be a school in the county without its celebration—the Christ Child as its motive power.

The program for the week is included in the letter.

Sincerely,
IRMA C. HARTLEY,
Co. Supt.
Nov. 29, 1932.

W. C. T. U.

The W. C. T. U. will meet Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. G. E. Wolhart, 412 South Broadway. All members and friends are cordially invited. A picnic lunch will be served.

Lowell Parent-Teachers

The Parent-Teachers association of the Lowell school, Northeast Brainerd, will hold their regular monthly meeting in the assembly room of the school tonight. A good program has been prepared and a committee from the Rotary Club, with Sam Adair as chairman, will have charge of part of the evening. Everybody interested in school matters in this section of the city is cordially invited.

E. M. IRISH DIED IN AKELEY NOV. 29

Was Well Known Druggist and Resident of That Town for a Period of 22 Years

FORMERLY WAS OF BRAINERD

Funeral Services Held Friday at Akeley Under Masonic Auspices, Interment at Pequot

Edgar M. Irish, well known druggist of Akeley for 22 years, and previously a resident of Brainerd, having at one time been employed at the M. K. Swartz drug store in this city, died Tuesday afternoon, being stricken with apoplexy from which he did not regain consciousness.

He had always been in the front ranks of the town for the betterment and upbuilding of Akeley and his sudden taking away was greatly felt by all citizens.

Mr. Irish leaves a wife and daughter Dyantha, three brothers Dr. H. P. Irish and Aaron Irish of Akeley, Philo Irish and one sister, Mrs. Ida Hill of Essex, Vermont.

Funeral services were held Friday morning at the Methodist church in Akeley, being under the auspices of the Masonic lodge to which he had belonged. Short services were held at Pequot Saturday morning, where interment took place besides the bodies of Col. and Mrs. Butler, the parents of Mr. Irish's wife.

The funeral party was at Brainerd Saturday, Mrs. Irish being accompanied by two brothers F. M. Butler of New York Mills and P. L. Butler of St. Paul, Rev. Bratton, Methodist minister of Akeley, and Mrs. P. C. Peterson of Williams Lake near Akeley, a devoted friend of Mrs. Irish. The Dispatch extends its sincere sympathy to the bereaved family.

Presbyterian Ladies Aid

The Presbyterian Ladies Aid will hold a Christmas sale of useful articles on Saturday, December 9th at the Y. M. C. A. rooms. The circles will have charge of the luncheons which will be served during the noon hour, the afternoon, and the evening.

PRINCE TO LECTURE TONIGHT

Speaker Nolan Says Chaldean Sheik Emmanuel Enthusiastically Received

W. I. Nolan, who gave the address at the Elks' memorial services Sunday, has appeared on the Lyceum platform with Prince Raphael Emmanuel, who will lecture here this evening, and says that wherever the Prince has appeared he has been enthusiastically received. "He is a very interesting young man," said Mr. Nolan, "and has a splendid program to present. His number was one the most pleasing ones offered on our tour."

Prince Emmanuel will be heard in a lecture on "Stories, Songs and Legends of Chaldea," at the club rooms of the Business and Professional Women's club in Koop hall this evening at 8 o'clock. All are cordially invited to attend.

A pleasing addition to the lecture is the short concert to be given by local artists. Mrs. Mal Clark will be heard in two songs, the "Kashmiri" song, by Sinden, a literal translation of which is "Pale Hands I Love," and a Chinese lullaby by Robert Bowers, from "East is West." Mrs. Clark will be accompanied by Mrs. Walter F. Wieland.

Miss Alice R. Johnstone is to play the "Hymn to the Sun," from the opera, "The Gold Cock," giving a few paragraphs from the libretto in illustration of the song, which is being sung in the opera in New York City by Madame Sundelius. Mrs. W. A. M. Johnstone will play the accompaniment for her daughter, Miss Alice.

Admission of 50 cents will be received at the door, the young ladies of the club having decided not to sell tickets for anything that they may give this season. The proceeds from the lecture and concert are to be used to provide new furniture and hangings for the club rooms and it is hoped that the club will have the support of the public in their effort to raise funds.

BRAINERD'S EDUCATIONAL NEEDS

NATIONAL Education week has for its purpose a serious consideration of the educational needs of the United States. Its greatest value will lie in organizing the thought of people in the home communities around the local needs. If the standards of each community are raised the standards of the country will be proportionately raised. If the purpose of the week is realized and people become interested in knowing the educational needs of the communities in which they live, out of this knowledge of need there will be born a desire to supply such need, and if sufficient enthusiasm is generated local communities, and the nation at large, will move forward in providing a better standard of education and more widely diffused educational opportunities.

Brainerd's high school calls for special attention in the program of educational week in this city. Upon the need of better facilities for teaching high school students emphasis must be placed and will be placed. No one in Brainerd is to blame for present conditions; these result from other conditions over which officials have no control, and are largely due to the injustice that is wrought by the gross earnings tax. Brainerd cannot remedy this injustice, but the school board has done well in securing a comparatively slight redress of the wrong in the form of a check for around $25,000. This amount, however, does not begin to return to Brainerd what, under a different disposal of what is known as the gross earnings tax, would have allowed the retention of tax money in Brainerd for educational and other uses.

There is an increasing sentiment through the state in favor of a reapportionment of the funds that are used for purposes of education which will lead in time to a more equitable distribution of money devoted to educational purposes. But Brainerd is not so well provided with adequate school buildings that the city can afford to await this readjustment. A new high school is needed and needed in the near future, in fact it is a present necessity. If the citizens of Brainerd will visit the high school during the week of December 6 to 9, Education week, and become acquainted with the conditions of over-crowding which clearly prove the inadequacy of the present building, they will be ready to support any recommendations that the school board may make in the spring of 1923.

The opportunity offered for becoming acquainted with the schools and the educational program of the local community, through utilizing National Education week, should not be neglected by any citizens of Brainerd who have the interests of the rising generation at heart. Every citizen who visits the high school will be cordially received and respectfully shown the crowded classes that emphasize the inadequacy of the building.

A PREMIUM ON EFFICIENT LEGISLATORS

A RECOMMENDATION sent to Washington by a farmer-labor organization which, if adopted, would deny the right of any man to hold a seat in congress whose income is over $10,000 per annum, shows the unreasonable attitude that may result from failure to correctly appraise the relation of the system in which men live to the men within the system.

Recommendations of this kind result from a feeling that any man who has a large income will, if elected to congress, immediately align himself with those who are intent upon securing advantages for the wealthy. Nor can it be denied that this has usually proved to be true. However, there are wealthy men who are opponents of any attempt of organized capital to exploit others and legislate in its own interest without thought of the welfare of the majority.

Such a recommendation proves, what is already well known to some, that few are able to see that so long as a system obtains men must be measured by the standards of that system. To be wealthy in our present order is usually a mark of ability and efficiency, and to refuse to allow a man, with an income over $10,000 per annum, a seat in congress would, under our present system, place a premium on inefficiency and failure. Those who propose such legislation are in line with people who fail to distinguish between the capitalist and capitalism and who, therefore, detest all capitalists, failing to see that capitalism is responsible for the capitalist who may be a man of good will and benevolent spirit.

A fundamental of all correct thinking calls for a careful study of the relation of a system to a man. So long as our present order endures, in which men think of success in terms of profits which, having accumulated, yield wealth, it is useless to place a ban upon those who, by working successfully according to the rules of the order, realize what attention to such rules will inevitably yield, which is, wealth. A large income is the measure of a man's success and service under our present order, and to refuse to allow those with large incomes to serve their country is of the nature of placing a premium on indolence, carelessness, inefficiency and failure.

FRANCO-BRITISH ACCORD

THE acceptance by M. Poincare of an invitation issued by Bonar Law and Lord Curzon to attend a conference in London preliminary to the Brussels parley is indicative of the dawn of a better understanding between the French and British governments. Lloyd George was not popular with the French. His attitude to Germany, which the French government believed to be opposed to the best interests of their nation, made it hard for the two governments to come to any agreement with regard to the method to be pursued in dealing with Germany.

The stand of the new premier of Britain is not in line with that taken by his predecessor. Bonar Law and Lord Curzon both favor a policy that is more sympathetic to that adopted by France. It is not likely that this stand will lead to a yielding to the French government in all particulars, but it is likely to bring about such reasonable compromises on both sides as will yield a unity of action.

What the idealistic stand of the late premier failed to accomplish may be realized by the more practical program which, through taking knowledge of facts as they are, is better fitted to deal with actual situations.

"COOPERATION"

Subject of H. D. Hoffman's Address at Meeting of Telephone Employees

Telephone employees attached to the local exchange, held their regular get-together meeting last week. All departments of the exchange were well represented, and the meeting was carried through with a great deal of enthusiasm.

A business meeting was first on the program, and included interesting talks by officials. H. D. Hoffman, manager of the Brainerd office, spoke on "Cooperation"; W. R. Pettit, wire chief, used as his subject, "Prevention of Accidents"; and Miss Kent, one of the chief operators chose as her theme, "Recognizing the Other Fellow". Clark Naegle and C. Kelly, officials from the St. Cloud office, were present and gave instructive talks.

A social session of songs and cards followed the business meeting, and the event closed with an excellent luncheon.

On next Tuesday afternoon, between five and six o'clock a demonstration in first aid will be given for the benefit of all employees. This is an important subject, and is only one number on the program for this winter's activities.

Employees are looking forward with keen anticipation to the regular get-together which will be held in December.

INDOOR CARNIVAL

To be Staged December 15 and 16 Under Auspices of St. Paul's Women Guild

The secret is out. There are to be big doings in Brainerd in the near future. A special committee has been appointed and has had several meetings behind closed doors, where plans were laid for a big indoor carnival to be held December 15th and 16th under the auspices of the women's guild of St. Paul's Episcopal church.

The public is warned that this will be no small affair. Details are, of course, still in the embryo, but it has the earmarks of a real honest-to-goodness 20-car street carnival with all of such a show's good qualities. (And many new ones added) and none of its bad features.

The city will soon be placarded with big circus posters, and there will be no excuse for anyone not knowing that something big is about to break in our midst.

Included in the program are a number of fine out-door attractions, all free, which will make every spectator itch to see what's going on in the main show.

A carnival queen contest will also be staged in connection, and it is going to be some task to pick the loveliest lady from Brainerd's bevy of beautiful women.

Readers of the Dispatch are asked to watch these columns for further information which will be given out from time to time. The committee in charge promises that this event will eclipse the famous winter carnival that made St. Paul famous, so much can be expected on December 15th and 16th.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH NOTES

The first Light Bearer Band in the church was organized last Friday afternoon at the home of their teacher, Mrs. Strout. It is a missionary organization for girls up to 14 years of age. The following officers were elected: President, Lois Cook; Vice-President, Katherine Hagberg; Secretary, Virginia Cook; Treasurer, Helen Marie Stadlbauer. After the business the afternoon was spent in games. Refreshments were served and every one voted the afternoon a happy one. It is hoped other classes in the Sunday school will take up the same line of work.

The D. Y. B. class had a goodly number out and it made one feel good to see them in their usual place.

Miss Opsahl took charge of the music for the opening exercises. No need to say that we had good music because all who know her ability can judge.

On Wednesday afternoon the aid will be entertained by Mesdames Opsahl, Strout and A. K. Cohen at the home of the former. Members are requested to bring their thimbles.

Wednesday evening Miss Lawrence will entertain the Westminster Guild Chapter at the home of Mrs. J. A. McKay. The study will begin at 7:30.

The trustees will meet at the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday evening for their regular monthly meeting.

Thursday evening the quarterly pre-communion service will be held at the church at 8 o'clock. The session will meet before this service at 7:30 and all elders are requested to be there and on time.

The program committee of the Sunday school will meet at the manse on Thursday evening at 7:15 to make final arrangements for the Christmas program.

BRAINERD'S EDUCATIONAL NEEDS

NATIONAL Education week has for its purpose a serious consideration of the educational needs of the United States. Its greatest value will lie in organizing the thought of people in the home communities around the local needs. If the standards of each community are raised the standards of the country will be proportionately raised. If the purpose of the week is realized and people become interested in knowing the educational needs of the communities in which they live, out of this knowledge of need there will be born a desire to supply such need, and if sufficient enthusiasm is generated local communities, and the nation at large, will move forward in providing a better standard of education and more widely diffused educational opportunities.

Brainerd's high school calls for special attention in the program of educational week in this city. Upon the need of better facilities for teaching high school students emphasis must be placed and will be placed. No one in Brainerd is to blame for present conditions; these result from other conditions over which officials have no control, and are largely due to the injustice that is wrought by the gross earnings tax. Brainerd cannot remedy this injustice, but the school board has done well in securing a comparatively slight redress of the wrong in the form of a check for around $25,000. This amount, however, does not begin to return to Brainerd what, under a different disposal of what is known as the gross earnings tax, would have allowed the retention of tax money in Brainerd for educational and other uses.

There is an increasing sentiment through the state in favor of a reapportionment of the funds that are used for purposes of education which will lead in time to a more equitable distribution of money devoted to educational purposes. But Brainerd is not so well provided with adequate school buildings that the city can afford to await this readjustment. A new high school is needed and needed in the near future, in fact it is a present necessity. If the citizens of Brainerd will visit the high school during the week of December 6 to 9, Education week, and become acquainted with the conditions of over-crowding which clearly prove the inadequacy of the present building, they will be ready to support any recommendations that the school board may make in the spring of 1923.

The opportunity offered for becoming acquainted with the schools and the educational program of the local community, through utilizing National Education week, should not be neglected by any citizens of Brainerd who have the interests of the rising generation at heart. Every citizen who visits the high school will be cordially received and respectfully shown the crowded classes that emphasize the inadequacy of the building.

A PREMIUM ON EFFICIENT LEGISLATORS

A RECOMMENDATION sent to Washington by a farmer-labor organization which, if adopted, would deny the right of any man to hold a seat in congress whose income is over $10,000 per annum, shows the unreasonable attitude that may result from failure to correctly appraise the relation of the system in which men live to the men within the system.

Recommendations of this kind result from a feeling that any man who has a large income will, if elected to congress, immediately align himself with those who are intent upon securing advantages for the wealthy. Nor can it be denied that this has usually proved to be true. However, there are wealthy men who are opponents of any attempt of organized capital to exploit others and legislate in its own interest without thought of the welfare of the majority.

Such a recommendation proves, what is already well known to some, that few are able to see that so long as a system obtains men must be measured by the standards of that system. To be wealthy in our present order is usually a mark of ability and efficiency, and to refuse to allow a man, with an income over $10,000 per annum, a seat in congress would, under our present system, place a premium on inefficiency and failure. Those who propose such legislation are in line with people who fail to distinguish between the capitalist and capitalism and who, therefore, detest all capitalists, failing to see that capitalism is responsible for the capitalist who may be a man of good will and benevolent spirit.

A fundamental of all correct thinking calls for a careful study of the relation of a system to a man. So long as our present order endures, in which men think of success in terms of profits which, having accumulated, yield wealth, it is useless to place a ban upon those who, by working successfully according to the rules of the order, realize what attention to such rules will inevitably yield, which is, wealth. A large income is the measure of a man's success and service under our present order, and to refuse to allow those with large incomes to serve their country is of the nature of placing a premium on indolence, carelessness, inefficiency and failure.

FRANCO-BRITISH ACCORD

THE acceptance by M. Poincare of an invitation issued by Bonar Law and Lord Curzon to attend a conference in London preliminary to the Brussels parley is indicative of the dawn of a better understanding between the French and British governments. Lloyd George was not popular with the French. His attitude to Germany, which the French government believed to be opposed to the best interests of their nation, made it hard for the two governments to come to any agreement with regard to the method to be pursued in dealing with Germany.

The stand of the new premier of Britain is not in line with that taken by his predecessor. Bonar Law and Lord Curzon both favor a policy that is more sympathetic to that adopted by France. It is not likely that this stand will lead to a yielding to the French government in all particulars, but it is likely to bring about such reasonable compromises on both sides as will yield a unity of action.

What the idealistic stand of the late premier failed to accomplish may be realized by the more practical program which, through taking knowledge of facts as they are, is better fitted to deal with actual situations.

"COOPERATION"

Subject of H. D. Hoffman's Address at Meeting of Telephone Employees

Telephone employees attached to the local exchange, held their regular get-together meeting last week. All departments of the exchange were well represented, and the meeting was carried through with a great deal of enthusiasm.

A business meeting was first on the program, and included interesting talks by officials. H. D. Hoffman, manager of the Brainerd office, spoke on "Cooperation"; W. R. Pettitt, wire chief, used as his subject, "Prevention of Accidents"; and Miss Kent, one of the chief operators chose as her theme, "Recognizing the Other Fellow". Clark Naegle and C. Kelly, officials from the St. Cloud office, were present and gave instructive talks.

A social session of songs and cards followed the business meeting, and the event closed with an excellent luncheon.

On next Tuesday afternoon, between five and six o'clock a demonstration in first aid will be given for the benefit of all employees. This is an important subject, and is only one number on the program for this winter's activities.

Employees are looking forward with keen anticipation to the regular get-together which will be held in December.

INDOOR CARNIVAL

To be Staged December 15 and 16
Under Auspices of St. Paul's
Women Guild

The secret is out. There are to be big doings in Brainerd in the near future. A special committee has been appointed and has had several meetings behind closed doors, where plans were laid for a big indoor carnival to be held December 15th and 16th under the auspices of the women's guild of St. Paul's Episcopal church.

The public is warned that this will be no small affair. Details are, of course, still in the embryo, but it has the earmarks of a real honest-to-goodness 20-car street carnival with all of such a show's good qualities. (And many new ones added) and none of its bad features.

The city will soon be placarded with big circus posters, and there will be no excuse for anyone not knowing that something big is about to break in our midst.

Included in the program are a number of fine out-door attractions, all free, which will make every spectator itch to see what's going on in the main show.

A carnival queen contest will also be staged in connection, and it is going to be some task to pick the loved liest lady from Brainerd's bevy of beautiful women.

Readers of the Dispatch are asked to watch these columns for further information which will be given out from time to time. The committee in charge promises that this event will eclipse the famous winter carnival that made St. Paul famous, so much can be expected on December 15th and 16th.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH NOTES

The first Light Bearer Band in the church was organized last Friday afternoon at the home of their teacher, Mrs. Strout. It is a missionary organization for girls up to 14 years of age. The following officers were elected: President, Lois Cook; Vice President, Katherine Hagberg; Secretary, Virginia Cook; Treasurer, Helen Marie Stadlbauer. After the business the afternoon was spent in games. Refreshments were served and every one voted the afternoon a happy one. It is hoped other classes in the Sunday school will take up the same line of work.

The D. Y. B. class had a goodly number out and it made one feel good to see them in their usual place.

Miss Opsahl took charge of the music for the opening exercises. No need to say that we had good music because all who know her ability can judge.

On Wednesday afternoon the aid will be entertained by Mesdames Opsahl, Strout and A. K. Cohen at the home of the former. Members are requested to bring their thimbles.

Wednesday evening Miss Lawrence will entertain the Westminster Guild Chapter at the home of Mrs. J. A. McKay. The study will begin at 7:30.

The trustees will meet at the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday evening for their regular monthly meeting.

Thursday evening the quarterly pre-communion service will be held at the church at 8 o'clock. The session will meet before this service at 7:30 and all elders are requested to be there and on time.

The program committees of the Sunday school will meet at the manse on Thursday evening at 7:15 to make final arrangements for the Christmas program.

TRIBUTE PAID TO ELKS GONE BEYOND

Hon. W. I. Nolan, Speaker of the House and Member Minneapolis Lodge, Gave Memorial Address

FIVE BROTHERS DIED IN YEAR
Over 100 Elks Marched in a Body from the Lodge Hall to New Park Theatre Ceremonies

FIVE BRAINERD ELKS ABSENT BROTHERS OF 1922

A. F. Victor, of Duluth.
Edward Levant.
Donald E. Quinlivan of Deerwood.
W. J. Quinn of St. Paul.
James J. Cummins.

Hon. W. I. Nolan, speaker of the house of representatives of this state, and a member of Minneapolis lodge No. 44, delivered the memorial day address for Brainerd Lodge No. 615 of the B. P. O. E. Sunday afternoon at the New Park theatre, a large and appreciative audience hearing his eloquent tribute to Elkdom and America. The Elks formed in a body at the hall and with over 100 members in line, marched to the theatre.

Exalted Ruler J. J. Nolan presided and the ritual was finely exemplified. The stage was beautifully decorated in keeping with the occasion.

W. I. NOLAN
Speaker of the House of Representatives

In his address, W. I. Nolan said he deemed it a great privilege to speak to Elks and their friends on such an occasion. All had assembled to do honor to the brothers who had passed to the great beyond. It was not a day of mourning, but of cheerful remembrance. When the five absent had been called, they gave no answer, but we felt in our hearts that they did answer.

Leaving this life, said he, they were still members of the Elks. Fraternal ties bound us to those who had gone before. We paid our respects to them and knew they were not forgotten.

One of the most impressive and simple ceremonies of the Elks is that of the mystic hour of eleven. It is never forgotten as long as the order of Elks exists, said the speaker.

In the same way, on a broader scale, these memorial exercises brought back to remembrance the members called to their reward during the year. Earthly life is so very short, said the speaker, it is hardly begun before it is finished. Life is mysterious and had not been explained by scholar or mystic.

Mr. Nolan quoted an appropriate passage from Shakespeare's writings on the philosophy of life. Each played his part in this world and it was well done if one added to the comfort and well being of his fellowman.

The speaker deemed this life but a preparation for a greater one. A divine intelligence shaped our destiny. If this life is the end of everything, then the memorial exercises are a mockery.

The writings of Shakespeare endured. Lincoln's great soul still lived.

It was proper and fitting that the Elks pay homage to the five passed beyond, and from their lives draw inspiration and renew their obligations. No order excelled the Elks in charity which reached beyond the lodge room.

Eulogies Delivered

Eulogies for A. F. Victor of Duluth and Edward Levant were delivered by Walter F. Wieland; for Donald Quinlivan by John A. Hoffbauer; for W. J. Quinn of St. Paul and James J. Cummins by J. J. Nolan. All breathed a tender regard for the departed

THANKSGIVING IN NEW HOME

Rev. and Mrs. R. E. Cody Entertained 30 Guests at Beautiful Home on West Kingwood Street

RESIDENCE CHARMING POINTS
Is of Semi-Colonial Style. Exterior Being of Dark Green and White Kellastone

Rev. and Mrs. R. E. Cody, assisted by their niece, Miss Florence Baumgarten of La Crosse, Wis., entertained thirty guests at the Ranford hotel Thursday at a Thanksgiving dinner.

Later the party adjourned to the beautiful home which Mr. and Mrs. Cody have just completed on West Kingwood street, in Sun Set Park addition. The number of guests were increased during the evening by other friends coming in. Mrs. M. Squires, of Trempealeau, Wisconsin, was an out of town guest.

The evening was spent in games and in reminiscences of early Thanksgiving days. Light refreshments were served by the light of the glowing fire on the hearth.

The new Cody home is one of the most beautiful in that section of the city. It is of semi-colonial style, the exterior being constructed of dark green and white Kellastone. The broad front of the house is broken in relief by trellises and window boxes made of Kellastone. The garage adjoins the house and is heated from the furnace.

The driveway leading in from the street is of cement marked with massive cobble stone posts. To balance this on the opposite side of the lawn is a pretty cobble stone fountain and seat.

The charm of this home lies in its spacious living room and sun parlor, which extends the full width of the house on the west side, and affords a most magnificent view overlooking the river and the country-side beyond. Twin fire places in these rooms add much to their beauty.

The dining room on the east side of the house is beautifully decorated in China blue. A special feature of this room is the Chinese decorations, two crimson banners, lettered in gold leaf in Chinese characters hang from the picture moulding nearly to the floor on each side of a group of windows. Chinese carved brass and decorated china and a large mahogany tray underlaid with Chinese silk embroidery, were the gifts of Rev. Cody's sister who spent her life as a missionary in western China.

The kitchen brought an exclamation of delight from every housewife present. It is finished in spotless white enamel and equipped with every modern convenience, with a cozy breakfast room in connection.

An open stairway leads to the bed chambers on the second floor with adjoining sleeping porches on the west, where one again is given a more extended view of the river and surrounding country than from the floor below. Rev. Cody's study is located on the second floor and also a beautiful room furnished especially for Mrs. Button, Mrs. Cody's mother. Refinished antique furniture is used exclusively in this room.

Trailing princess pine and bitter sweet were used for decorations throughout the house, completing one of Brainerd's most beautiful homes. Mr. Cody's faith in this city as well as his interest in making it the city beautiful is proven in every particular connected with the building of this residence.

Musical Selections

The singing of the American Legion quartet was much admired. In this quartet are S. F. Alderman, R. E. Bemmel, A. C. Mraz and Roland Jenkins. Mrs. Mal D. Clark was heard in a beautiful soprano solo. All the accompaniments were played by Mrs. Walter F. Wieland.

The invocation and benediction were delivered by Rev. Fred Errington, pastor of the First Congregational church.

MISSING

Mrs. Kristine Edwards, Norwegian, disappeared from Cuyuna, Minnesota at 9:00 o'clock Saturday morning, December 2nd, 1922.

Mrs. Edwards speaks with a Norwegian accent, is about 50 years old, light complexioned, wearing a long black plush coat with blue knit cap having two tassels. She wore a black skirt and white waist.

At a recent meeting of the Crow Wing Agricultural Society, A. C. Larson of Pequot was elected secretary to succeed O. J. Bouma, resigned.

The county fair held at Pequot in September was one of the most successful held in a number of years and the society feels well repaid for the work done in putting it on this event. An extra effort will be made to still further improve the annual show next season, work on which is already being planned.

TRIBUTE PAID TO ELKS GONE BEYOND

Hon. W. I. Nolan, Speaker of the House and Member Minneapolis Lodge, Gave Memorial Address

FIVE BROTHERS DIED IN YEAR
Over 100 Elks Marched in a Body from the Lodge Hall to New Park Theatre Ceremonies

FIVE BRAINERD ELKS ABSENT BROTHERS OF 1922

A. F. Victor, of Duluth.
Edward Levant.
Donald E. Quinlivan of Deerwood.
W. J. Quinn of St. Paul.
James J. Cummins.

Hon. W. I. Nolan, speaker of the house of representatives of this state, and a member of Minneapolis lodge No. 44, delivered the memorial day address for Brainerd Lodge No. 615 of the B. P. O. E. Sunday afternoon at the New Park theatre, a large and appreciative audience hearing his eloquent tribute to Elksdom and America. The Elks formed in a body at the hall and with over 100 members in line, marched to the theatre. Exalted Ruler J. J. Nolan presided and the ritual was finely exemplified. The stage was beautifully decorated in keeping with the occasion.

W. I. NOLAN
Speaker of the House of Representatives

In his address, W. I. Nolan said he deemed it a great privilege to speak to Elks and their friends on such an occasion. All had assembled to do honor to the brothers who had passed to the great beyond. It was not a day of mourning, but of cheerful remembrance. When the five absent had been called, they gave no answer, but we felt in our hearts that they did answer.

Leaving this life, said he, they were still members of the Elks. Fraternal ties bound us to those who had gone before. We paid our respects to them and knew they were not forgotten.

One of the most impressive and simple ceremonies of the Elks is that of the mystic hour of eleven. It is never forgotten as long as the order of Elks exists, said the speaker.

In the same way, on a broader scale, these memorial exercises brought back to remembrance the members called to their reward during the year. Earthly life is so very short, said the speaker, it is hardly begun before it is finished. Life is mysterious and had not been explained by scholar or mystic.

Mr. Nolan quoted an appropriate passage from Shakespeare's writings on the philosophy of life. Each played his part in this world and it was well done if one added to the comfort and well being of his fellow-man.

The speaker deemed this life but a preparation for a greater one. A divine intelligence shaped our destiny. If this life is the end of everything, then the memorial exercises are a mockery.

The writings of Shakespeare endured. Lincoln's great soul still lived. It was proper and fitting that the Elks pay homage to the five passed beyond, and from their lives draw inspiration and renew their obligations. No order excelled the Elks in charity which reached beyond the lodge room.

Eulogies Delivered

Eulogies for A. F. Victor of Duluth and Edward Levant were delivered by Walter F. Wieland; for Donald Quinlivan by John A. Hoffbauer; for W. J. Quinn by St. Paul and James J. Cummins by J. J. Nolan. All breathed a tender regard for the departed.

THANKSGIVING IN NEW HOME

Rev. and Mrs. R. E. Cody Entertained 30 Guests at Beautiful Home on West Kingwood Street

RESIDENCE CHARMING POINTS
Is of Semi-Colonial Style, Exterior Being of Dark Green and White Kellastone

Rev. and Mrs. R. E. Cody, assisted by their niece, Miss Florence Baumgarten, of La Crosse, Wis., entertained thirty guests at the Ransford hotel Thursday at a Thanksgiving dinner.

Later the party adjourned to the beautiful home which Mr. and Mrs. Cody have just completed on West Kingwood street, in Sun Set Park addition. The number of guests were increased during the evening by other friends coming in. Mrs. M. Squires, of Trempealeau, Wisconsin, was an out of town guest.

The evening was spent in games and in reminiscences of early Thanksgiving days. Light refreshments were served by the light of the glowing fire on the hearth.

The new Cody home is one of the most beautiful in that section of the city. It is of semi-colonial style, the exterior being constructed of dark green and white Kellastone. The broad front of the house is broken in relief by trellises and window boxes made of Kellastone. The garage adjoins the house and is heated from the furnace.

The driveway leading in from the street is of cement marked with massive cobble stone posts. To balance this on the opposite side of the lawn is a pretty cobble stone fountain and seat.

The charm of this home lies in its spacious living room and sun parlor, which extends the full width of the house on the west side, and affords a most magnificent view overlooking the river and the country-side beyond. Twin fire places in these rooms add much to their beauty.

The dining room on the east side of the house is beautifully decorated in China blue. A special feature of this room is the Chinese decorations, two crimson banners, lettered in gold leaf in Chinese characters hang from the picture moulding nearly to the floor on each side of a group of windows. Chinese carved brass and decorated china and a large mahogany tray underlaid with Chinese silk embroidery, were the gifts of Rev. Cody's sister who spent her life as a missionary in western China.

The kitchen brought an exclamation of delight from every housewife present. It is finished in spotless white enamel and equipped with every modern convenience, with a cozy breakfast room in connection.

An open stairway leads to the bed chambers on the second floor with adjoining sleeping porches on the west, where one again is given a more extended view of the river and surrounding country than from the floor below. Rev. Cody's study is located on the second floor and also a beautiful room furnished especially for Mrs. Button, Mrs. Cody's mother. Refinished antique furniture is used exclusively in this room.

Trailing princess pine and bitter sweet were used for decorations throughout the house, completing one of Brainerd's most beautiful homes. Mr. Cody's faith in this city as well as his interest in making it the city beautiful is proven in every particular connected with the building of this residence.

ones and extolled their manly qualities.

Musical Selections

The singing of the American Legion quartet was much admired. In this quartet are S. F. Alderman, R. E. Bennetts, A. C. Mraz and Roland Jenkins. Mrs. Mal D. Clark was heard in a beautiful soprano solo. All the accompaniments were played by Mrs. Walter F. Wieland.

The invocation and benediction were delivered by Rev. Fred Errington, pastor of the First Congregational church.

HORNSBY—GREAT BATTING STAR

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, Dec. 4.—Rogers Hornsby, the great star of the St. Louis Cardinals, was the outstanding hitter and slugger of the 1922 baseball season. For the third successive year, he led the National League hitters, according to the official averages released today.

His average of .4013 is the highest mark made by any National League hitter since Ed Deleahanty was the champion in 1899 with .408.

With 250 hits over the season's run, he also broke the record of 243 hits made in 1897 by Willie Keeler.

His total of 42 homers made him baseball's slugging king for the season and broke all National League records.

Hornsby also led in run scoring with 141 runs to his credit, Max Carey, the fleet Pirate being just one behind him.

Hornsby also led in doubles with 46, while Jake Daubert, of the Reds, had the honors in triples with 22 with Rabbit Maranville, Pittsburgh, second with 15 and Hornsby third with 14.

General improvement in batting is noticed in the average, although the number of .300 hitters in 1921 was 58 against 53 for the past season.

With the exception of Hornsby, almost a new race of batting kings came into power in 1922.

Among the first twenty on this year's roll of honor, Emil Meusel, the Giant outfielder, was the only one who did not do better than his 1921 average. He fell down only slightly, however, from .343 to .330.

Casey Stengel, the rejuvenated orphan of the National League, was one of the biggest sensations of the year. Working as a regular with the Giants he jumped his average from .248 to .368.

Fonseca, the Cincinnati infielder, hopped from .276 to .361, but he is a young player and his improvement was more to be expected. Another youngster who came fast was Cotton Tierney, the Pirate infielder, who hopped his average from .298 to .345.

The following table shows what improvement was made among the first twenty batters:

Name	1921	1922
Hornsby, Cards	.397	.401
Stengel, Giants	.284	.368
Fonseca, Reds	.276	.361
Grimes, Chicago	.321	.354
Roush, Reds	.351	.351
Bigbee, Pirates	.323	.350
Mann, Cards	.328	.347
Tierney, Pirates	.298	.345
Snyder, Giants	.320	.343
Hollocher, Cubs	.288	.339
Walker, Phils	.301	.337
Daubert, Reds	.306	.336
Wheat, Robins	.320	.335
Young, Giants	.327	.330
Barnhart, Pirates	.258	.330

Among the newcomers, Rebel Russell, the old pitcher, who came back to outfield for the Pirates, rapped for the good average of .368 and landed in second place.

Hack Miller, the huge Chicago outfielder, was seventh with .351 and Harper, the young Cincinnati outfielder, was among the select with .339.

Many of the outstanding batters of 1921 fell off during the past season and dropped down considerably in the standing. Among those who had a bad season were:

Name	1921	1922
Mueller, Cards	.352	.270
Christenbury, Braves	.352	.250
Reuther, Robins	.351	.208
Cruise, Braves	.346	.278
Fournier, Cards	.343	.294
Frisch, Giants	.341	.326
Smith, Giants	.336	.277
Groh, Giants	.331	.265
Johnston, Robins	.325	.319

With Russell, Tierney, Barnhart, Bigbee, Carey, Schmidt and Gooch hitting .300 for the season and Maranville, Traynor and Grimm right in the shadow of it, the Pittsburgh Pirates led the league in team batting with .308.

The Giants, aided by the .300 stickwork of Stengel, Snyder, Young, Meusel, Kelly, Cunningham, Frisch and Bancroft finished second with .305, and the St. Louis Cards with .301 were the only other club to get in the elite group.

N. P. ENCOURAGES LAND SETTLEMENT

To encourage increased settlement in the Northwest and to give the purchaser of its lands the greatest possible assistance as he starts to build up his ranch or his farm, the Northern Pacific Railway company, through its land department, has announced a new style of land contract. Heretofore the lands of the company have been sold under contracts, the extreme duration of which has been ten years.

Under the new plan, lands are to be sold on terms which will provide for the spreading of payments over a much longer term. One-tenth of the consideration is to be paid in cash and the balance, drawing simple interest at 6 per cent, is to be amortized over a period of 19 years. This scheme of payments will be readily grasped when it is explained that an annual payment of $81.00 per thousand of indebtedness will pay for the land within the term, including 6 per cent simple interest. This has been evolved with the intention of enabling the purchaser to employ his capital in building up his new business to a greater extent than has been possible heretofore when the heaviest annual payments fell due at the beginning of a contract, a method which has resulted in slowing up materially the development of the agricultural districts of the West. Under the new contract, the annual installments will be the same throughout the term.

To insure that only honest-to-goodness settlers and farmers may be given the benefit of this easy method of land purchase, the contract requires residence on or near the property and the expenditure of specific sums in improvements upon the premises. The language of the contract in these respects is as follows:

"As a material part of the consideration, the purchaser makes the following averments and agreements that he is now residing within a radius of ten miles of said premises, or will establish his residence either upon the premises or within a radius of ten miles thereof within six months from the date hereof, and will maintain such residence during the period of five years; that he will utilize the premises for farming or stock-raising purposes, and to that end, he will, within one year from the date hereof, place upon the premises improvements of a value equal to five per cent of the purchase price, and, within the second, third and fourth years, he will, in each year place thereon additional improvements of a value equal to five per cent of said purchase price. When improvements to the value of 20 per cent of the purchase price shall have been placed on the premises this agreement shall be fulfilled."

This new contract incorporates some of the most approved and modern methods of land selling and, so far as known to the company, is the first attempt of any large land selling organization in this direction. It is thought to be a long step towards better selling methods throughout the Northwest, a program which the immigration department of the railway company has been strongly advocating.

AMUSEMENTS

Tom Moore in "From the Ground Up"

Tom Moore, with his ineradicable, jolly smile, is playing at the Lyceum theatre, for two days, beginning to-night, in a delightful Rupert Hughes comedy, "From the Ground Up", that was produced by Goldwyn. In this photoplay, Mr. Moore begins life as a ditch-digger in an excavation for a business building. As a man with no cares and a happy nature that keeps him either singing or playing his harmonica, the lowly hero arouses the envy of the rich and care-worn builder. His daughter, too, on a visit to the site for the new building, is attracted to the happy spirit in the ditch. He gives her his harmonica as a sure cure for all the ills of the world. She puts a bill in his hand and drives off. Thereafter his pride gives him an ambition—to return that money.

TOM MOORE in "FROM THE GROUND UP" A GOLDWYN PICTURE

When the building becomes too great an undertaking for the builder, and his fortune is lost, the ditch-digger has already risen to a position of semi-responsibility. Two or three times he encounters the beautiful daughter, (played by Helene Chadwick), but is never able to return payment for his recipe for happiness. No wite fortunes of the ditch-digger and the formerly wealthy builder are reversed; but it is the former who seeks out the latter.

There are many humorous and pathetic episodes in this Rupert Hughes comedy which lead to a satisfactory conclusion.

TEACH SEX TO PARENTS, NOT CHILDREN

(By United Press)

Chicago, Dec. 2.—Sex instruction for parents, not children, is the solution to the modern morals problem.

The Chicago school board, with this idea in mind, will hold night schools in morality and sex hygiene for the mothers and fathers of school children.

Several trustees of the board of education will conduct the night classes and carry to the parents the problems of sex hygiene, which they in turn are expected to convey to their children through individual instruction in the home.

Sex matters cannot be taught properly to school children except by their parents, Dr. Boleslaus Klarkowski, trustee of the school board and father of the plan, declared.

"Sex instruction should begin at home and not at school," said Klarkowski.

The night classes will be conducted in fifty different community centers. Members of the board who will direct the sex lectures include Dr. Klarkowski.

ski, Dr. John Dill Robertson and Dr. Sadie Bay Adair.

The teachings will include frank discussions of the younger generation's morals, according to Dr. Klarkowski.

"Parents will be taught to show their children the real meaning of sex, and to bring them up in an atmosphere that will compel right living," he said. "Instead of talking about moral qualities, parents should see that their children's lives are first dominated by a spirit of right living in the home."

"Many parents try to frighten their children into righteousness with threats of the dire results of sex indiscretions."

"The child should be taught the meaning of true love, which comes from self control."

In Your Garden.

It is truly wonderful how many birds will visit modest gardens during a year. They will, during the spring migration, be most in evidence from early daylight till breakfast time, and then again as evening comes on, says the American Forestry Magazine. When autumn approaches, the migration that takes place is equally interesting. In winter we may look for various finches, sparrows, crossbills, hawks, owls and not a few other species that come to us during that time of the year.

Could Supply Either.

There was no sign above the tiny office to denote what went on inside, except that it was a general agency. But underneath that description was the following sentence:

"Anything you want at a moment's notice." So the humorist knocked, entered and found himself facing a sleek young man across a small desk-table.

"I want a lawyer," said the humorist. "Certainly, sir," said the young man. "Smart or straight?"

DRINK WATER WHEN YOUR KIDNEYS HURT

Stop eating meat for a while if your Bladder is troubling you

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it may mean you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. An excess of meat may form uric acid, which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels, removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus often ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia water drink. Drink lots of soft water.

GRANDMA USED SAGE TEA TO DARKEN HAIR

She Mixed Sulphur With It to Restore Color, Gloss, Youthfulness

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store, all ready for use. This is the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and after another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.—Adv.

HORNSBY—GREAT BATTING STAR

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, Dec. 4.—Rogers Hornsby, the great star of the St. Louis Cardinals, was the outstanding hitter and slugger of the 1922 baseball season. For the third successive year, he led the National League hitters, according to the official averages released today.

His average of .4013 is the highest mark made by any National League hitter since Ed Delahanty was the champion in 1899 with .403.

With 250 hits over the season's run, he also broke the record of 243 hits made in 1897 by Willie Keeler.

His total of 42 homers made him baseball's slugging king for the season and broke all National League records.

Hornsby also led in run scoring with 141 runs to his credit, Max Carey, the fleet Pirate being just one behind him.

Hornsby also led in doubles with 46, while Jake Daubert, of the Reds, had the honors in triples with 22 with Rabbit Maranville, Pittsburgh, second with 15 and Hornsby third with 14.

General improvement in batting is noticed in the average, although the number of .300 hitters in 1921 was 58 against 53 for the past season.

With the exception of Hornsby, almost a new race of batting kings came into power in 1922.

Among the first twenty on this year's roll of honor, Emil Meusel, the Giant outfielder, was the only one who did not do better than his 1921 average. He fell down only slightly, however, from .343 to .330.

Casey Stengel, the rejuvenated orphan of the National League, was one of the biggest sensations of the year. Working as a regular with the Giants he jumped his average from .248 to .368.

Fonseca, the Cincinnati infielder, hopped from .276 to .361, but he is a young player and his improvement was more to be expected. Another youngster who came fast was Cotton Tierney, the Pirate infielder, who hopped his average from .298 to .345.

The following table shows what improvement was made among the first twenty batters:

Name	1921	1922
Hornsby, Cards	.397	.401
Stengel, Giants	.284	.368
Fonseca, Reds	.276	.361
Grimes, Chicago	.321	.354
Roush, Reds	.351	.351
Bigbee, Pirates	.323	.350
Mann, Cards	.328	.347
Tierney, Pirates	.298	.345
Snyder, Giants	.320	.343
Hollock, Cubs	.288	.339
Walker, Phils	.301	.337
Daubert, Reds	.306	.336
Wheat, Robins	.320	.335
Young, Giants	.327	.330
Barnhart, Pirates	.258	.330

Among the newcomers, Rebel Russell, the old pitcher, who came back to outfield for the Pirates, rapped for the good average of .368 and landed in second place.

Hack Miller, the huge Chicago outfielder, was seventh with .351 and Harper, the young Cincinnati outfielder, was among the select with .339.

Many of the outstanding batters of 1921 fell off during the past season and dropped down considerably in the standing. Among those who had a bad season were:

Name	1921	1922
Mueller, Cards	.352	.270
Christenbury, Braves	.352	.250
Reuther, Robins	.351	.208
Cruise, Braves	.346	.278
Fournier, Cards	.343	.294
Frisch, Giants	.341	.326
Smith, Giants	.336	.277
Groh, Giants	.331	.265
Johnston, Robins	.325	.319

With Russell, Tierney, Barnhart, Bigbee, Carey, Schmidt and Gooch hitting .300 for the season and Maranville, Traynor and Grimm right in the shadow of it, the Pittsburgh Pirates led the league in team batting with .308.

The Giants, aided by the .300 stickwork of Stengel, Snyder, Young, Meusel, Kelly, Cunningham, Frisch and Bancroft finished second with .305, and the St. Louis Cards with .301 were the only other club to get in the elite group.

N. P. ENCOURAGES LAND SETTLEMENT

To encourage increased settlement in the Northwest and to give the purchaser of its lands the greatest possible assistance as he starts to build up his ranch or his farm, the Northern Pacific Railway company, through its land department, has announced a new style of land contract. Heretofore the lands of the company have been sold under contracts, the extreme duration of which has been ten years.

Under the new plan, lands are to be sold on terms which will provide for the spreading of payments over a much longer term. One-tenth of the consideration is to be paid in cash and the balance, drawing simple interest at 6 per cent, is to be amortized over a period of 19 years. This scheme of payments will be readily grasped when it is explained that an annual payment of $81.00 per thousand of indebtedness will pay for the land within the term, including 6 per cent simple interest. This has been evolved installments will be the same throughout the term.

To insure that only honest-to-goodness settlers and farmers may be given the benefit of this easy method of land purchase, the contract requires residence on or near the property and the expenditure of specific sums in improvements upon the premises. The language of the contract in these respects is as follows:

"As a material part of the consideration, the purchaser makes the following averments and agreements that he is now residing within a radius of ten miles of said premises, or will establish his residence either upon the premises or within a radius of ten miles thereof, within six months from the date hereof, and will maintain such residence during the period of five years; that he will utilize the premises for farming or stock-raising purposes, and to that end, he will, within one year from the date hereof, place upon the premises improvements of a value equal to five per cent of the purchase price, and, within the second, third and fourth years, he will, in each year place thereon additional improvements of a value equal to five per cent of said purchase price. When improvements to the value of 20 per cent of the purchase price shall have been placed on the premises this agreement shall be fulfilled."

This new contract incorporates some of the most approved and modern methods of land selling and, so far as known to the company, is the first attempt of any large land selling organization in this direction. It is thought to be a long step towards better selling methods throughout the Northwest, a program which the immigration department of the railway company has been strongly advocating.

Tom Moore in "From the Ground Up"

Tom Moore, with his ineradicable, jolly smile, is playing at the Lyceum theatre, for two days, beginning tonight, in a delightful Rupert Hughes comedy, "From the Ground Up", that was produced by Goldwyn. In this photoplay, Mr. Moore begins life as a ditch-digger in an excavation for a business building. As a man with no cares and a happy nature that keeps him either singing or playing his harmonica, the lowly hero arouses the envy of the rich and care-worn builder. His daughter, too, on a visit to the site for the new building, is attracted to the happy spirit in the ditch. He gives her his harmonica as a sure cure for all the ills of the world. She puts a bill in his hand and drives off. Thereafter his pride gives him an ambition—to return that money.

TOM MOORE in "FROM THE GROUND UP" A GOLDWYN PICTURE

When the building becomes too great an undertaking for the builder, and his fortune is lost, the ditch-digger has already risen to a position of semi-responsibility. Two or three times he encounters the beautiful daughter, (played by Helene Chadwick), but is never able to return payment for his recipe for happiness. No woe fortunes of the ditch-digger and the formerly wealthy builder are reversed; but it is the former who seeks out the latter.

There are many humorous and pathetic episodes in this Rupert Hughes comedy which lead to a satisfactory conclusion.

TEACH SEX TO PARENTS, NOT CHILDREN

(By United Press)
Chicago, Dec. 2.—Sex instruction for parents, not children, is the solution to the modern morals problem. The Chicago school board, with this idea in mind, will hold night schools in morality and sex hygiene for the mothers and fathers of school children.

Several trustees of the board of education will conduct the night classes and carry to the parents the problems of sex hygiene, which they in turn are expected to convey to their children through individual instruction in the home.

Sex matters cannot be taught properly to school children except by their parents, Dr. Boleslaus Klarkowski, trustee of the school board and father of the plan, declared.

"Sex instruction should begin at home and not at school," said Klarkowski.

The night classes will be conducted in fifty different community centers. Members of the board who will direct the sex lectures include Dr. Klarkowski.

ski, Dr. John Dill Robertson and Dr. Saddle Bay Adair.

The teachings will include frank discussions of the younger generation's morals, according to Dr. Karkowski.

"Parents will be taught to show their children the real meaning of sex, and to bring them up in an atmosphere that will compel right living," he said.

"Instead of talking about moral qualities, parents should see that their children's lives are first dominated by a spirit of right living in the home.

"Many parents try to frighten their children into righteousness with threats of the dire results of sex indiscretions.

"The child should be taught the meaning of true love, which comes from self control."

In Your Garden.

It is truly wonderful how many birds will visit modern gardens during a year. They will, during the spring migration, be most in evidence from early daylight till breakfast time, and then again as evening comes on, says the American Forestry Magazine. When autumn approaches, the migration that takes place is equally interesting. In winter we may look for various finches, sparrows, crossbills, hawks, owls and not a few other species that come to us during that time of the year.

Could Supply Either.

There was no sign above the tiny office to denote what went on inside, except that it was a general agency. But underneath that description was the following sentence:

"Anything you want at a moment's notice." So the humorist knocked, entered and found himself facing a sleek young man across a small desk.

"I want a lawyer," said the humorist.

"Certainly, sir," said the young man. "Smart or straight?"

DRINK WATER WHEN YOUR KIDNEYS HURT

Stop eating meat for a while if your Bladder is troubling you

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it may mean you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. An excess of meat may form uric acid, which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels, removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus often ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia water drink. Drink lots of soft water.
